Like great architecture, beautiful home design is always in style.

There are many unique and beautifully designed homes in Canberra. Great design is a combination of form and function.

Working with Terry was great, he is very practical, and knows what works and what doesn't, and has the attitude, 'if we can do it, we will do it!'

Creating a home that is both beautiful to live in, and functional is the mark of good architecture. You are creating a new environment designed to enhance your lifestyle. Your home serves many purposes; living space for the family, adequate storage, entertainment areas, space to play and a retreat to relax.

Terry goes into bat for you and resolves situations, he is the advocate for the client, you are reassured that he is there for you, and the end product is what you expected.

A well designed homes brings pleasure and ease to your lifestyle. With some careful planning and thought, you can create a home that has all the features you would want and be a valuable asset in the future.

We highly recommend Terry because he has integrity and he is honest. We like his work because it is not all the same, it is feasible, practical and within budget. Time is a big factor.

"Our home is better than money in the bank. We could not afford to buy our home now. We have made so much money from our home, it has skyrocketed in value." Most of all you get to live in it and enjoy your home.

"Live the lifestyle that you want in your home that you've designed..." says Beverly of Griffith; "We have been in our home for the last 13 years, and we love it."

As Terry always says; "it costs the same per metre to build a project house as it does to build excellent design".

Beverly said; Terry (Terry Ring, Architects Ring and Associates) was not the first architect we looked at. We had a design consultation, we looked at his portfolio, and he gave us a list of clients and addresses, some which we phoned, and got great feedback, there was no pressure.

If you are thinking of re-designing or remodeling your home, or are thinking about designing your new home and would like to see more of Terry's work at Architects Ring and Associates, you can email araa@araa.com.au for a complimentary design consultation, and discuss your future home.

We used Terry because other people we spoke to recommended him. The houses we saw were beautiful, and there was a variety of versatile designs. We asked about timeframes and budget, people were very impressed with Terry.
